

Zug, 5 September 2023 / Press release from Intercity Group Holding AG

Pascal Vaucher named new CEO of Wüst und Wüst

Wüst und Wüst AG, part of the family-owned Intercity Group and specialists in the marketing of exclusive residential property, has a new chief executive officer. The Intercity Group board of directors has appointed Pascal Vaucher, the current managing director of Wüst und Wüst St. Moritz, as CEO. He replaces Beat Hürlimann, who has been elected to the Wüst und Wüst AG board of directors and will replace Herbert Wüst, majority shareholder of the Intercity Group, as chair. Vaucher has been a member of the family-owned holding company's board of directors since 2020. With his appointment as CEO, he also becomes a member of the Intercity Group executive board, led by Robert Hauri.

Pascal Vaucher has over ten years of wealth management experience. He has been a member of the Intercity Holding Group AG board of directors for several years and opened the Engadin branch of Wüst und Wüst in 2022. As of 1 October 2023, Vaucher will take over CEO responsibilities at Wüst und Wüst AG from Beat Hürlimann, who has worked for the company since 2007, and will join and chair the Intercity Group board of directors.

Herbert Wüst, majority shareholder and chair of the Intercity Group Holding AG board of directors: "I am delighted that Pascal Vaucher, a member of the family's next generation, will be in charge of managing Wüst und Wüst's operations. Pascal is a committed entrepreneur, who has a vast network of contacts and understands the distinct wishes and concerns of exclusive clients."

Robert Hauri, chair of the Intercity Group executive board and CEO and co-owner of SPGI Zurich AG: "With our well-established companies, the Intercity Group provides diverse real estate services in different segments. Our strong group management team of experienced professionals brings comprehensive real estate solutions to all our clients. We are pleased to welcome Pascal to the management team and look forward to working with the board of directors to further develop the Intercity Group business."

The Intercity Group Holding AG management team is composed as follows: Robert Hauri (Group CEO and co-owner SPGI Zurich AG), Cornelia Hürlimann (Group CFO), Mariana Schwager (CEO Intercity Vermarktung AG), Stefan Lemberger (CEO and co-owner Hugo Steiner AG) and, effective 1 October 2023, Pascal Vaucher (CEO Wüst und Wüst AG).
